

Challenges

We were facing a challenge in scheduling and managing execution & communication of operations & implementation projects.

How has Mission Control Helped?

We have been able to streamline our processes and manage them from a central location, with integrated communication, scheduling and activity history.

About Principal Software

We develop a fully integrated administration, financial & communication system for schools.

"Mission Control has really helped us with our time management and allowed us to improve our case turn around as well as easily manage our projects. We are still learning to use many of the features, so its value in our process increases on a daily basis. Couple this with constant improvements, excellent service, lightning fast support and a willingness to consider requests, and you couldn't hope to find a better solution. Thanks Colin and Co, we could no longer manage without MCI!"
